

HE DESERTS HIS WIFE.

A Respectable Couple of Florence
Take the Thorny Path.

Newton, Kan., Aug. 31.—Out of the arrest here of W. I. Taylor of Florence, Kan., and Miss Nettie Hunter of the same place, comes the story of a broken home, a deserted wife and children and a nameless babe.

Taylor, has for the past thirty years, been a resident of Florence. He was respected, industrious, frugal, honest and in all respects was looked upon as an upright citizen and a devoted husband and father. Miss Hunter some years ago graduated from the Florence high school with honor, and has since been one of Marion county's prominent teachers.

Something less than a year ago Taylor's wife was taken sick and Miss Hunter was brought in to nurse her and take care of the house. Later the girl left and took up her residence in Denver. Shortly thereafter Taylor followed her, deserting his wife and two children. Four months ago a baby was born and since then the couple have been traveling around from town to town, Taylor following the avocation of a traveling man.

In the meantime his brothers, who are prominent residents of Marion, had been in communication with him in an endeavor to have him return to Florence and take up life again with his forsaking wife. This he promised to do and they sent him a considerable sum of money in order that he might make the Hunter woman comfortable. However, instead of using the money in this manner, and returning to the family that was only too willing to forgive the erring husband and father, he spent the money for other purposes. His action incensed the brothers and when they learned that the couple had come to Newton they swore out warrants and caused their arrest.

The baby is a delicate little mite and may not live many months. The mother is apparently very much devoted to it and pleaded with the officers that she not be sent to jail, where she would be separated from the little one and thus be deprived of the opportunity of caring for it and, if possible, nursing it back to health. Considering this, and the fact that the woman seems to be genuinely repentant for her actions and the home she had broken up, it has been decided to permit her to go free. Taylor, however, has been given a sentence of six months in the county jail and a fine of $10 and costs, but an effort will be made to have him released on parole if he will return to Florence and support his family. Otherwise he will be compelled to serve out his sentence.

TRICKETT GROWS ANGRY

Declares He Will Enforce the Prohibition Law in Wyandotte.

Kansas City, Aug. 31.—That the recent trial and conviction of Assistant Attorney General C. W. Trickett may lead to unexpected ends, namely the charging of other state officers with a miscarriage of a public trust was evidenced last night when Myron Waterman of the Civic league openly, from the rostrum of the First Presbyterian church, accused County Attorney Joseph Taggart with being in the employ of certain "barflies" and introduced resolutions condemning him.

The occasion was a mass meeting called by the Civic league at which several ministers spoke in behalf of the Assistant Attorney General. The feature of the evening's programme, however, was Mr. Trickett. Mr. Trickett said that the fight against the joints would go on.

"And more than that," he announced, "I am going to see that this prohibition law is jammed down the throats of the people of Kansas City. No matter how many men it takes."

Mr. Trickett said he offered to resign July 8, but that the attorney general had refused him the privilege and that now he would "stick by his ears at all hazards."

"And now I want to make an oath," continued Mr. Trickett. "I want to swear by the eternal that I shall spend all of my money and all of my time from now on in the interests of keeping this town closed."

Mr. Trickett said that the attorney general of Kansas had passed upon his case favorably and that he received a letter from him saying that he was convinced that whatever court passes upon his case next time would say that he was guilty of no crime.

GAVE THE WRONG MEDICINE.

Douglas County Father by Mistake Gives Son Carbolic Acid.

Lawrence, Kan., Aug. 31.—Ruehl Wilbur, aged 15 years, died Saturday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilbur, from a dose of carbolic acid, given by mistake for medicine. The family lives on a farm eight miles north of this place. The boy had been sick for some time with typhoid fever, but was in a fair way to recovery.

Saturday morning about 1 o'clock the father got up to give the boy his medicine and by mistake got hold of a bottle containing carbolic acid that had been used as a disinfectant.

The dose was not a large one, but the boy was too weak to survive the effects. He was immediately taken with intense pains and from that time until he died, at 6 o'clock suffered terribly. The father is nearly crazed over the terrible affair. The acid bottle bore no label and was of the same size and the contents the same color as the medicine.

Caught After Long Chase.

Ogden, Utah, Aug. 31.—After tracing them to Buenos Aires, South America, and from that point to Ogden, the federal authorities placed yesterday under arrest Dalrinda Adeline and Mabel Joseph, an Italian man and woman, the latter said to have been brought to this country for immoral purposes, and they will, it is said, be deported. It is also said that this case was wanted as witness in a New York murder case. The chase which has resulted in the arrests was one of the longest made by the government officers in years.

CURTIS AT BELLEVILLE.

Topeka Senator Addresses a Good Crowd at the Court House.

Belleville, Kan., Aug. 31.—Senator Charles Curtis addressed a good meeting at the court house Saturday afternoon. The occasion was the organization of a Taft club for Republic county. The club was organized with a membership of 450, and it will be extended to every township in the county. Mr. Curtis, who is very popular in Republic county, made a good impression in his speech. He dealt largely with national issues, showing up some of the inconsistencies of Mr. Bryan's position on public questions.

The officers of the Taft club elected were John M. Doyle, president; Howard C. Zech, secretary.

AN IOILA REFINERY SOLD.

New York and Philadelphia Capitalists to Take Possession at Once.

Ioila, Aug. 31.—A deal has been closed by M. Miller, who is in New York, whereby the Superior refinery, owned by F. S. Bennett and M. Miller, passed into the hands of a syndicate of New York and Philadelphia capitalists, who will take possession of the plant at once. The capital stock of the Superior Refining company was $120,000 and it sold at par. The superior refinery was erected in 1905 and began operation in April of that year.

HEARST MEN WANT TO FUSE.

They Try to Fix Up a Deal With the Oklahoma Populists.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Aug. 31.—Probably 150 delegates of the Populist party attended the state convention here today. John Allen, editor of the People's Call, of Norman, and Populist leader of this section, presided.

The probability of a fusion with the Independence league is remote, although a number of the new Hearst party representatives including A. W. Dierendorfer, of Caddo, national committeeman, are here and many conferences between the leaders of the two parties have taken place. Tom Watson, candidate for president, was unable to attend the convention. He is expected to visit Oklahoma some time in September.

OKLAHOMA CITY EXPLOSION.

What a Sporting Writer Had to Say About Topeka Trouble.

Bunnie Coldren, the sporting editor of the Daily Oklahoman and former Washburn student, isn't much of a stickler for truth, as should be expected from one who got his first newspaper experience in Topeka.

Some of the dispatches which he sent to his paper from this city, relative to the trouble between the Cooleysex and Mets are flagrantly colored.

Here is Coldren's story of Friday's trouble, reproduced in full from the Daily Oklahoman of Saturday morning:

"By grasping his favorite umpire, Setley, by the throat the psychological moment today and threatening to 'bust his nose' if the latter called Jay Andrews out at third base in the ninth inning, Richard Coeur de Lion' Cooley saved the day for his ball team and made a great stride toward perfecting his plan to have Topeka cop the flag.

"The Topeka fans were so enthused by the example of their peerless leader that one of them thought to further the good work along by putting Bill Hoffer out of business for a couple of hours by hitting him on the temple with a pop bottle.

"It was a very successful day for the Cooleyites. After the trip from Webb City the Mets were sent in to play a double header. They felt as though something was going to happen, but started to do their best. Despite the fact that Setley held Poibre to the center of the plate and wait high for strikes, the young southpaw squeezed along, allowing but two scores up to the ninth. The Mets, in the meantime, had collected five by a reckless assault upon the offerings of Hagerman, and the game seemed safe.

"But the ninth came along and trouble came with it. With one out Davis hit safely. Boles hit to White for what looked like a double play, but Love muffed White's throw. Then Andrews hit safely and Boles scored, but Kelsey returned the ball to third and Everhart caught Andrews by a yard. Setley called him out, but Cooley would not have it that way. He rushed Setley, and Andrews also swelled up grandly, and Setley finally called him safe.

"The Mets raised a terrific kick, but it was useless. They at first refused to go back and finish the game, but finally did so after Setley had sent S. Olson to first base on balls without any being thrown. E. Olson got a scratch hit over second, and the Mets walked in while Andrews and Abbott scored the winning runs.

"Figuring that to make an earnest effort to win was useless, the Mets played horse for an inning in the second game, when Setley forfeited it to Topeka, 9 to 6. This was followed by the hitting of Hoffer with a pop bottle and more excitement. The man who threw the pop bottle could not be found.

"Baseball in the Western Association is nearer a crisis tonight than at any time in the history of the league. Topeka patrons of the game realize that it is up to them to put the stamp of disapproval on the tactics adopted by Manager Cooley and the Mets, who saw two games stolen outright before their very eyes are undecided as to whether they will play tomorrow or let Cooley take the games by forfeit.

"Bill Hoffer, who was knocked senseless by a popbottle hurled by one of Cooley's agents in the grandstand, is able to be around tonight, but he feels the effects of his experience. There was not the slightest provocation for the cowardly assault on the Mets' manager and no effort was made by the Topeka players to find Hoffer's assailant.

Cooley laughed at the incident and urged the grandstand to keep up its fanatical attack. Tonight the Mets are subjected to jeers as they walk along the street and there is hardly a member of the team who has not been openly insulted.

"Fair minded citizens who take an interest in the sport are unanimous in condemnation of Cooley's actions. The ruling by Setley was so grossly a steal that it was grotesque. Not a player on the Topeka team but what admitted after the game that Andrews had been put out at third, but when Cooley rushed towards Umpire Setley, swearing like pirate, the official hastened to reverse himself and the Mets were only defending themselves from the ruthless attacks of the umpire when they were assaulted by the spectators.

"President Shively is blamed for the condition of affairs to a very large extent. All through the season he has permitted Cooley to bulldoze and browbeat him and the Topeka manager has come to feel that he owns the league.

Unless there are some steps taken towards reform the national game has been killed here and when a team is afraid to take the field for fear of personal injury at the hands of the on-lookers it is felt radical action is necessary."

REWARD

Have you ever known of a thoroughly verified authentic case where hair was regrown or made to sprout on a bald head?

If you have information of such a remedy, or formula, or hair grower, there are several baldheaded millionaires who will cheerfully allow you to separate them from great wads of money. You can get from us enough to buy several automobiles, with a chauffeur, a yacht and a farm or two thrown in, to say nothing of a regular income that we will be glad to settle on you.

There are enough bald heads sitting nightly in the front rows of the big theaters to make us fabulously rich if we could become possessed of something that would put hair on a bald head in which the roots are dead. About as far as we have gone in an investigation of years is to find something that will keep the hair you already have, and that will restore, as well the color to your hair if it has become gray. If we cannot do this the druggist who sells you our discovery will return you the money up to the sixth bottle. Also, if you have dandruff, pityrias simplex, seborrhoeal eczema, alopecia areata folliculitis (cracking or splitting hair) we will cure you if there is any agency on this great globe yet found than can do so. Dandruff we will stop on the third application. We can not, do not cure everybody, as in some cases our directions for treatment are not closely adhere to. But if we cannot cure you your druggist will refund the money. This is a form of guarantee—what is it worth? Look us up in any Commercial Directory or inquire of any bank, or ask any druggist about the Hesig-Ellis Drug Co. of Memphis, whose laboratory and brains produce this marvelous preparation. We guarantee to restore the color to your hair—we guarantee to keep on your head the hair you now have—we guarantee to give you a fine, lovely, luxuriant, silken, glossy head of hair.
